RALLY RULES

- This is a summary of the Rally Rules in the Rally Document, of which a copy will be given to each participating yacht.
- The Rally is neither a race nor a regatta and engines may be used as decided by each skipper.
- In order to participate in the rally, the size of the yacht must be over (L.O.A) 9m. The yachts that are smaller than the mentioned size will not be accepted to the rally.
- The Rally is open only to amateur sailing and motor yachts but not to chartered yachts or yachts with paying guests/passengers on board. Due to the on shore arrangements which may include free hospitality and entertainment, absolutely no charter yachts are allowed to take part in the Rally.
- Each yacht must have a minimum crew of two at all times.

Participants are bound by :

The International Regulations for Preventing Collision at Sea laws and Regulations of Turkey and the countries to be visited, the present Rally Rules, Committee's and / or Commodore's sailing instructions.

Each Rally-Yacht must display the following :

- National flag of the country of registration,
- A flag of the country to be visited on the main mast starboard cross tree as a courtesy flag,
- Rally and Sponsors' burgees,
- Rally number.

Each Rally-Yacht must be equipped with :

- a built-in Diesel engine,
- a ready to float dinghy or life-raft,
- a built-in 5 Watt VHF radio,
- a radar reflector,
- signal flares

all in reasonable working condition. The Committee may check the Rally-Yachts in respect of the above.

As a majority of participants understand English, this will be the language during the rally for all the communications. Private messages between yachts, not effecting the rally, may be sent in any language.

Disclaimer :

Every yacht participating in A.Y.R. AEGEAN YACHT RALLY is sailing under the sole responsibility of the owner/skipper and her crew. The Rally Organisation Committee, Commodore, Group Leaders, Sponsors and Supporters, the Turkish Coast Guard, Managements of Marinas and Port Authorities in Turkey and the countries to be visited, any person connected with the organisation of this Rally, bear no responsibility for any loss, damage, injury or inconvenience to any yacht, to crew members, to third parties or other yachts.

The safety of each yacht and her entire management, including insurance, remains the responsibility of the owner or the skipper. Yacht owners/skippers and their crew, are participating in the Rally of their own free will and at their own risk. Each owner/skipper is responsible for the seaworthiness and safe navigation of his/her yacht. The decision of whether to start, continue or retire in consideration of the meteorological conditions, present or forecast or other conditions lies entirely with the skipper of each yacht. If retiring delaying departure from any port, the yacht must report her action to the Group Leader or the Rally Commodore. There will be no refund of the cost sharing fees under such circumstances.
